GIRLS HURT IN STAND CRASH.

Broken Ankles and Bruises Result From Collapse at Football Game.

Melrose, Mass., Dec. 1.—Several hundred girls, the cheering section of Melrose High school, were thrown to the ground in a tangled heap of bodies when a temporary stand collapsed yesterday during the a football match between the Melrose and Arlington High school teams. Several girls had ankles broken and scores were cut and bruised.

Melrose had just scored a touchdown when the collapse came, and the dancing about of the cheering girls was too much for the temporary structure. Police who investigated the accident said that the solid packing of the stand saved the lives of many. The girls were all standing and came down feet first.

WOMAN REVEALS FUGITIVE.

Fourth of Alleged Columbus Murder Bandits Caught in Cleveland.

Cleveland, Dec. 1.—A man giving the name of Frank W. Willis, aged 28, said to be the fourth member of the gang which early Tuesday shot two policemen, one fatally, in Columbus, was captured here yesterday and held on charges of first degree murder. He denied he was in Columbus or that he was implicated in the shootings.

A woman who told detectives she had been living with Willis said that she had not seen him from Monday morning until Wednesday evening.
She was held as a material witness.
The couple were taken to Columbus last night. The woman said she knew "Loomie" Cummins and a man who answered the description of James Martin, who are under arrest in Columbus for the crime.

$100,500 CAMPAIGN IS LAUNCHED TODAY

State Tuberculosis Commission Begins Drive to Lower Death Rate

The State Tuberculosis Commission, working in conjunction with the local tuberculosis units of the cities and large towns launched today a campaign to raise $100,000 to continue the struggle to cut down the death rate from that disease in Connecticut.
Annually for 15 years, this effort has been made in this state and throughout the nation by the Christmas Seal Sale, the oldest national fight to be waged against my definite disease. For several years it has resulted in about $4,000,000 being raised in this country, about $80,000 in Connecticut whose per capita of about six cents sold is one of the largest in the country.

This year the commission, which consists of Dr. Stephen J. Maher, chairman; Arthur R. Kimball and Wallace S. Allis, has perfected organization plans for a total of $20,000 more than ever before, believing that cutting down of the number of deaths and the discovery of lurking cases in the state is one of the most pressing health problems of the times.

In 10 years with a definite campaign against tuberculosis, organized, the death rate from pulmonary tuberculosis has fallen from 124 to 53. In 1911 there were 1453 deaths in the state, in 1921 only 1186. Similarly the campaign has resulted in hundreds of cases in an incipient stage being discovered. Last year, for instance, 1138 cases were discovered and treated in New Haven alone. A corresponding number were cared for in other Connecticut cities and towns.

Everywhere the campaign has resulted in hundreds of cases being found in an incipient stage. The early treatment which has thus been possible has not only saved hundreds of lives of tuberculosis sufferers, but has prevented the disease from spreading from the person affected to those in contact with him in tenement, factory or school.

The campaign to suppress tuberculosis, as planned and carried out by the commission, has consisted of sanatoria treatment which is provided by the state clinics in the principal cities and towns, tuberculosis nursing, open-air schools, material relief for patients and physical examinations for sufferers or suspects. The latter features of the campaign are made possible by the Christmas Seal Fund, 55 per cent. of which stays in the city or towns where it is raised, the remainder being used by the State Tuberculosis Commission and the National Tuberculosis Association for their part of the campaign.

Tuberculosis Clinics.
During the past year 25 tuberculosis clinics have been maintained in the state by the commission, and tuberculosis nursing by more than 40 nurses either part or whole time has been financed through the Christmas Seal Fund.

For the coming campaign the Employees' Tuberculosis Relief Association will, for the first time, conduct the sale in New Haven, and a similar association will raise the fund for the first time in Bristol. In Hartford, the Hartford Tuberculosis society, of which Dr. Edward B. Hooker is chairman, has chosen the Rotary Club to conduct the campaign. This is the first time the Rotary club has directed the local sale in any Connecticut city.
Last year Hartford led the state in its seal sale by about $1,500. In Bridgeport the Visiting Nurse Association, of which Mrs. Elmer H. Havens is president, will conduct the campaign.

1,000 Workers Take Part.
It is estimated that more than 1,000 workers aside from school children will take an active part in the seal sale, which began today and will close on Christmas eve. More than 50,000 school children will be enrolled among the canvassers.

The campaign will take the form of securing individual contributors to the Tuberculosis fund of the different communities from persons especially interested in the movement of a mail sale, which will be quite general, in which one dollar's worth of seals will be sent to possible purchasers of booth sales and sale by school children.

The state headquarters of the campaign are the rooms of the commission in the state capitol. Hubert M.
Sedgwick is the state campaign director and Miss Mabel Baird, campaign secretary.

ASSAULTS SPECIAL

COP, IS FINED $15

Belligerent Dancer Fined Upon Complaint of Andrew Zemanski—Autoist Freed With Warning.

Struck five times in the eye before 2,000 people, Andrew Zemanski, who is a special policeman at a hall on Gold street, complained to Supernumerary Policeman Walter Kozlow-ski last night and caused the arrest of Anthony Guido on assault charges.
Anthony was fined $15 and costs.

Guido had entered the hall with a young woman and proceeded to dance. Andrew claims a sign posted in the hall prohibited dancing and he called attention to that fact, meanwhile opening his coat and flashing his special policeman's badge. He asserted that Anthony declined to accept this as sufficient proof of his authority and struck him five times while the entire assembly looked on.
Dr. T. B. Rasquier attended the injured man.

The accused told Judge G. W. Klett today that he struck in self defense since he thought that Andrew might hit him first.
Tony Gabriel, a Wethersfield blacksmith, was arrested by Policeman John Liebler last night on Hartford avenue for driving without proper lights, license and registration papers.
Tony said he broke the light several hours prior to his arrest and had forgotten the papers. Judgment was suspended.
